THE P. C. S. BOYS PLAYED FINE GAME

In Mobile Saturday Against the Heavy Mobile Military Institute.

The members of the Pensacola Classical School eleven and those who accompanied them to Mobile, where they were defeated Saturday by the M. M. I. eleven, have returned home. Those who saw the game between the two teams are high in their praise of the work of the local football squad, who had as their opponent players much heavier, and even though defeated by the score of 12 to 6, the locals are satisfied with their game.

Some idea of what the local boys accomplished can be gained when it is known that the M. M. I. team is picked from a school more than twice as large as the local school, and these players average over 150 pounds, while the P. C. S. can hardly make 130.

Last year the M. M. I. defeated the P. C. S. team in Pensacola 29 to 0, and were determined to hand the locals a more crushing defeat on their own grounds this year.

The P. C. S., however, with the remembrance of last year's game ranking in their minds and knowing that the M. M. I. had a stronger team this year, went to work some three weeks ago under the direction of Coach Ormond and practiced with a vim and persistence for the trying event Saturday. When the teams ran out on the field it looked to the spectators as if it was just a matter of how large a score Mobile would run up. But when Mobile, after receiving the kick off was twice held for no gain, and then thrown for a loss of five yards, the spectators were greatly surprised. P. C. S. then advanced the ball to Mobile's 12-yard line, but were there held for downs and the ball went over. Mobile then, by slow but constant gains, carried the ball down the field for their first touch-down in 2 minutes' play. Cooper kicked an easy goal.

Pensacola received the kick-off on her 15-yard line and brought it back 20 yards. Sublette gained fifteen yards on a well-played forward pass, but Pensacola was unable to make more than 7 yards in the next three plays and the ball went over.

M. M. I. again, by repeated runs with beautiful interference, made another touch-down just before time was called. Cooper kicked goal from a very difficult position. Score, M. M. I. 12, P. C. S. 0.

P. C. S. received the kick-off in the second half on her 10-yard line and Hannah returned through the whole Mobile team for 40 yards. Mobile's safety man at last bringing the flying quarter to the ground. After several plays M. M. I. secured the ball on a fumble and advanced to P. C. S.'s line by end runs.

P. C. S. braced up and held them for downs, the ball going over in her 4-yard line.

Up to this time P. C. S. had been using only end runs, but Hannah at this point changed his tactics, and called for a line rush. It seemed almost impossible to make gains through such a heavy line, but the way P. C. S.'s linemen opened up gaps and Avery punctured it was surprising. Time and again Avery went through right and left guards for street to-day. See how many of them look as if their clothes are a help to them; a source of satisfaction; men who are conscious of being well dressed, without thinking too much of their clothes.

How many are either ashamed of their clothes, or indifferent to them; you'll see men of both kinds; and we venture to say this:

Most of the second type will be wearing "mercerized cotton" or cheap, shoddy clothes; and most of the first type will have Hart Schaffner & Marx label in their coats.

No man can respect clothes that are made to cheat in looks; not even when he wears them himself. And no man can fail to be helped, in business or social affairs by the strengthening sense that his clothes are right.

8, 14 and 15 yards, at times breaking entirely through only to be downed by Mobile's quarter. From P. C. S.'s 4-yard line to Mobile's 35-yard line, aided by the other backs and the excellent work of his line men, he had rushed the ball and prevented what a few minutes before seemed like an easy touch-down for Mobile. But at last he was worn out, and P. C. S. was held for downs.

Time was called with the ball in Mobile's possession, near the center of the field. Score: M. M. I. 12; P. C. S. 0.

Thus, though apparently out-classed at every point, P. C. S. had put up a remarkable game. Dogged determination and a cool, dashy style coupled with excellent team work, characterized every moment of their play.

M. M. I. played a hard, consistent game, and their team work and interference were excellent.

The line-up was as follows:
P. C. S.
Quinn (Wilson) Sublett
Hannah
Simmons re. Brawner
Hironymos rt. Phillips
Martin rg. Eagan
Wayler c. Barton
P. Green lt. (Sweeney) Williams
O. Green le. Hannah
Quinn q. Friedman
Inge le. Turtle
Chambliss rh. Brent
Cooper lh. Spotswood
Avery

It would be difficult to select the stars on either team for nearly every player showed up in some brilliant play at one time or another.

P. C. S. took their defeat from the hands of a better team in their characteristic, gentlemanly spirit and enjoyed their trip immensely.

Game Here Nov. 17.
They make their first appearance on the local gridiron Nov. 17 against the University Military School of Mobile. After their performance of Saturday their hundreds of admirers are anxious to see them in actual play and the game is looked forward to with more than ordinary interest.

They will have two weeks practice to perfect their plays and strengthen their weak points and no doubt will be much stronger than now.

This will be the first appearance of the University Military School football team in Pensacola, and although little is known of their playing, the P. C. S. boys are determined to keep up their good beginning and defeat the visitors.

The crowning event, however, will be the P. C. S.-P. H. S. game Thanksgiving, and unless something unforeseen happens to cripple the P. C. S. team, their admirers are looking for a victory.

Etiquette of Introductions.

On an at home day when many are present a hostess is not required to make introductions between her guests unless she wishes to do so, but when the callers number but one or two only it is incumbent upon her to introduce them to each other. At a large luncheon party the numbers regulate whether or no general introductions are to be made. It is not possible to introduce two or three of the principal people present are introduced, says Woman's Life. At a small luncheon party, on the contrary, to introduce all the guests to each other is the received rule, and this is done immediately on arrival if possible, formally or informally, directly or indirectly, as the hostess may prefer, but still an introduction of some kind is made.

THE REMAINS OF CHARLES M. COSTON

At Rest Beside Those of His Father in the National Cemetery.

The remains of Chas. M. Coston, nominee of the Democrats of Escambia county for the legislature, worthy president of the Order of Eagles, a member of the Knights of Pythias, and a prominent young attorney of the city, are at rest beside those of his father, Capt. H. H. Coston, U. S. M. C., in the National Cemetery at Warrington.

The funeral, largely attended, with the United States Marine Band present and rendering solemn music befitting the occasion, occurred yesterday afternoon. The cortege moved from the family home on West Gregory street about 1 o'clock, attended by the Eagles in a body proceeding to St. Katharine's church, where Rev. Dr. A. T. Sharpe conducted the solemn service of the church.

The cortege then moved to the dummy station, where the train was taken for Warrington, and upon arriving at the National cemetery the beautiful services of the Knights of Pythias and Eagles were said and the body placed at rest beside the father of the deceased who died while serving at the Pensacola navy yard, and whose body was interred there. The grave was almost completely enveloped with large and beautiful floral designs presented by friends and the orders of which the deceased was a member.

The pall bearers were Judge Chas. B. Parkhill, Judge A. C. Blount, Jr., Judge E. D. Beggs, Hon. C. M. Jones, Hon. Scott M. Loftin and Joseph L. Pinney, while six members of the Eagles and six of the Knights of Pythias acted as honorary pall bearers.

The delay in conducting the funeral was due to the fact that Washington authorities delayed in wiring permission for the body to be interred in the National cemetery.

THE DIVING BELL

How the First One Made by Dr. Halley Was Operated.

It was nearly 200 years ago that Edmund Halley constructed what is often referred to as the first diving bell, although the apparatus must have been much like that which was previously exhibited in the presence of Charles V., says the Technical World Magazine.

The principle of the diving bell is simple. An inverted jar sunk in the water retains air at its top, and if there is enough air men may live and breathe and work there and keep dry.

Dr. Halley's diving bell was a large wooden chamber open at the bottom and loaded there with lead to prevent it from turning in the water. Pieces of glass set in the roof furnished light. Air was supplied by an ingenious method, for leaded casks full of air were sent down, bung downward. Tipping the barrel, water would rush into it and drive out the air to the man in the bell chamber.

At the depth of thirty-three feet the air is compressed to half its former bulk, and the bell is therefore at that depth half filled with water, and as the depth increases so do the compression and the pressure.

MRS. EDDY ALIVE AND WELL AT HER HOME

Charges That the Christian Science Leader Did Not Exist Are Proven False.

The Christian Scientists of Pensacola, as well as throughout the entire country, have been thoroughly aroused over recent statements of the New York World to the effect that Mrs. Eddy, the founder of their faith, does not in reality exist. The people of Concord, N. H., Mrs. Eddy's home, have therefore produced incontrovertible evidence that Mrs. Eddy not only exists, but that she is alive and well and has been known by them for years. The Concord Monitor, which publishes this evidence, also says editorially:

Mrs. Eddy Does Exist.
It appears to be a diversion, taken up at more or less regular intervals by a certain section of the American press, to publish grossly fantastic and entirely false statements concerning the personality of Mrs. Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science. These efforts share in periodicity with the appearance of Torricelli's comet or the revival of the rumor of war between Japan and the United States. Just now it seems to be the function of the New York World to put forth, in its Sunday edition of October 28, a most amazing tissue of falsehoods in which it is alleged that Mrs. Eddy is at the point of death from an incurable malady; that she is kept practically in durance at her home in this city; that another woman disguised to resemble the Christian Science leader, rides in her carriage as it makes its daily round through Concord streets; together with assertions regarding Mrs. Eddy's fortune, income and repute in Concord—all of which are miles away from even the most distant approach to the truth.

The World's story, as we are told, is the result of long investigations in Concord by the World's representative. If this is so, their time here was ill-spent; for no honest investigator could have stayed here even so short a time as a single day without learning from indisputable sources that Mrs. Eddy is alive—and very keenly alive—to all that takes place in the world, and that she is constantly alert and thoughtful to do good to everybody, especially to the city of Concord.

For more than fifteen years Mrs. Eddy has made her home among us; and she leads a simple and well-ordered life—as befits one who has a daily routine filled with great duties to a great cause. That she fulfills these duties to the last degree is evidenced by the growth and advance of the movement which she heads; and that she finds time for other good works, for charity, for helpfulness and for public spirited co-operation in the affairs of the community where her home is fixed, thousands of Concord people are ready cheerfully to attest. And they have now come forward with glad alacrity to refute the falsehoods of the New York World.

Some of these refutations we are publishing in our news columns to-day. To them we can add our personal testimony.

The editor of this paper has enjoyed the privilege of Mrs. Eddy's friendship for more than ten years. During that time he has met her frequently and has corresponded with her almost continuously. Her conversation and her letters—numbering hundreds and written almost entirely with her own pen—are pulsating with but one desire, the desire to do good to individuals, to communities, and to the human race. Within a very short time the editor of this paper has seen Mrs. Eddy and with her taken counsel upon public affairs in Concord. She was then in a strength of spirit, mind and body far beyond what anyone would have a right to expect from a woman of her age. Her words were direct and simple, her discernment acute and sympathetic. Since then the writer has met her carriage almost daily upon our streets and its distinguished occupant has never failed to return a smiling greeting of recognition. This has happened within four days, when, in a narrow street where recognition was certain, we met the real Mrs. Eddy. The Mrs. Eddy we have known for years, almost face to face. We knew her and we were known by her.

We are moved to believe that testimony of this sort, which arises spontaneously on every hand in Concord, is more enduring and worthy than that of any newspaper "investigators," whose work shows only too clearly that they trust to their own or to somebody else's imagination for their facts. Concord people may buy the New York World, but they do not believe what it says. When anyone tells Concord that Mrs. Eddy is not one of our busiest, most helpful and beloved and respected citizens in full possession of her illustrious faculties of mind and in bodily strength beyond what her years warrant, Concord has a prompt and impregnable answer:

"We all know better!"
